

Truth or Consequences
Luke 10:13-24 June 7th, 2020

Before you can fully appreciate the good news, you must understand the _____. There is a future day of _____ (acknowledged in both the Old Testament and the New) (Dan 12:2 & Rev 20:12-15)

An important concept concerning accountability is, “To whom much is given, much is _____” (Luke 12:48)

Jesus said that it would be more tolerable for some in the day of judgment than for others. This leads us to believe that on that day, some will receive worse judgment than others. No one will have it _____ in hell, but some will have it _____ than others. - Guzik

There is a _____ in serving God that you can find nowhere else! (Psalms 16:11)

In verse 21 Jesus was not rejoicing because sinners were blind to God’s truth. (2 Peter 3:9) He rejoiced because the understanding of that truth did not depend on _____ abilities or education.

In His sovereign will, God has ordained that sinners must _____ themselves before they can be _____.
